The Tuscola County Fair

The 14st annual fair will be held July 24-30, 2022

Since 1881, the Tuscola County Fair has given residents from local towns, villages and cities a week’s worth of fun, excitement and in some cases, a chance to show off their skills and talents. 2021 will be the 140th year of the Tuscola County Fair!

Each year, the fair offers riding and roping, roaring engines, flying mud and – as always – plenty of rides, games, food and fun for the entire family.

Akron was settled by Charles H. Beach in 1854. It was originally known as Beach’s Corners until it was renamed Akron when the post office was established in 1857. The community is well-known for its ties to farming and agriculture.

An interesting triangle of streets denotes an intersection of M-138 and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, the two sources of transportation that gave life to this village in its earliest days.

Caro was originally called Centerville until a meeting was held in December 1868 to change the name. At that time, the name Novesta was suggested, but before it could be legally changed, another town was organized elsewhere and took the name.

In February 1869, the state legislation had officially changed Centerville to Caro at the suggestion of William E. Sherman. In 1866, the town gained the privilege of being the county seat, much to the dismay of the previous seat holder, Vassar.

Caro has long been among the leaders in the state in bean, sugar beet, wheat, corn and grain production. Caro also has a very good economy, with many small service-related businesses, small industrial and food service buildings, as well as retail shops.

Caro is also home to a Michigan Sugar Plant as well as Poet Biorefining (Michigan Ethanol).

The Village of Cass City offers a well-balanced community with superb recreation facilities, excellent medical coverage, a good school system, a strong industrial base and a viable business district. Its churches are strong and offer a variety of religious points of view for those who are interested.

The people are friendly and eager to welcome new residents, as well as visitors. The community is safe and takes great pride in keeping up its homes, factories, stores and public areas.

Cass City’s location in the northeast corner of Tuscola County is the geographic center of the three upper Thumb counties of Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola. This geographic centralization between the three counties gives Cass City the opportunity for continued growth as a regional center.

This General Law Village operates under the council-manager form of government. The governing body of the village is comprised of an elected president and six elected trustees. There is a Master Plan of Future Land Use as well as a Master Recreation Plan and Downtown Action Agenda Plan. These plans, and the policies adopted for the village, assure the highest quality of life and work for the residents of this Thumb community.

See you in July 2023
Deford is located north of Kingston and south of Cass City, in the southeast corner of Novesta Township. When the Grand Trunk Western Railroad was built through Deford in 1883, the station was named “Bruce” after local land owner Elmer Bruce.

The community was founded in 1884 by Arthur Newton and named for his dear friend, Mr. Deford.

The post office was established in 1884 as well. Deford is governed by Novesta Township.

Public education is provided by Cass City Public Schools, Kingston Public Schools and Deford Christian Academy.

Located in the heartland of Tuscola County, Fairgrove is a close-knit farm community.
Several churches serve the village and surrounding area, and the pride of Fairgrove’s people is obvious in recent improvements to the village park, a sound local library system, improved fire facilities and on-going work to the village’s water system.
The home of the annual Michigan Bean Festival each Labor Day weekend, Fairgrove is proud of its rich agricultural tradition.

Fostoria has the charm of a small town, which once boomed with activity with the Huckleberry Railroad.

The railroad was so named because it was said that it ran so slow that a person could easily jump off the train, pick huckleberries, and jump back on.

Once in Fostoria, the locomotive would head back on the 19.5-mile journey to Flint.

Surrounded by rolling hills and farmland makes a nice scenic drive to this village.

A variety of small locally-owned businesses round out this community.

Joseph Gage built a mill and a store on his land in 1868 and the town was named after him.

The Village of Gagetown is best known for the Octagon Barn, a historical landmark located one mile northeast of town.

While this may be one of the most popular landmarks for the community, it has the charm of a small town. Surrounded by rolling hills and farmland makes a nice scenic drive to this village.

Kingston is located on one of the state’s busiest east-west highways, M-46.
It has fought off economic trends throughout the past four decades and continues to provide a peaceful, residential setting in which to live.

Surrounded by farms, the village itself features three major churches, a community-minded bank and a successful school system, with a rich tradition of athletic and academic achievement.

The Village of Millington is on the move as residential growth continues to pour into the surrounding countryside.

The village itself braces to provide the services an obviously-growing population will require.

Millington’s commercial district, which lines both sides of busy M-15, provides a unique blend of basic services and tourist attractions, most notably the antique shops.

The community’s Christian foundation is based in the Lutheran church, which operates a successful elementary school, but has grown to include several denominations.

Millington has a variety of service organizations, all of which come together to put on a successful Old Fashion Summer Festival in August.

Millington is also on the M-15 Heritage Route.

The first major business/industry was erected in 1859 when a sawmill was built by Lane and Wolf.

Although virtually nameless until 1860, many names were in question when the village was platted. Following this, the name was Lanesville. This plan, however, abandoned the name, and in 1872 another name was taken, the name was then changed to Millington, for the town had been settled upon the banks of Millington Creek.
The Millington-Arabela Historical Society has been busy in our community since it was formed in 1991, “Preserving the Past for the Future” in our community.

For 2022 we are pleased to showcase three all new displays:

- Faith Builds Community, a display of local churches (past & present) featuring the 125th anniversary of St. Paul Lutheran Church.
- Celebrating the 50th year of the Millington Summer Festival (August 11-13, 2022).
- Antlers from the extinct Eastern American Elk found in Murphy Lake (1986).

North Branch was settled in 1854 by the Beach and Simmons families. Because of this, the early town was originally called Beachville. In its early years, North Branch’s main hub was the post office, store and trading post. North Branch has seen two major fires in its history, one in 1871 and the other in 1881. These fires destroyed much of the town, and is one of the main reasons Huron Street is now the main road.

It was first settled in 1865 by Louise Woodrff, who built the first home. Asenath Rogers named the village Gates, after A.W. Gates of Saginaw, a stage proprietor on the plank road.
In 1873 the Detroit & Bay City Railroad was built and Hudson B. Blackman platted another tract of land adjacent to Gates and named it Reese in honor of G.A. Reese, the railroad superintendent.

See you in 2022!
As we stand in this place now called Richville, we count our blessings as we think back 160 years when our forefathers stood on this ground and called this place in the forest Frankenhilf.

In the spring of 1850 from Memmingen, Germany, German colonists Carl Gottlieb Amman, his cousin Michael Schwartz arrived in Frankenhilf in June. On September 28, 1969, we dedicated our 3rd Church of St. Michaels. The cornerstone was laid on our “Kirchweihe” (church dedication).

We have continued to celebrate our church anniversary every September for many years at St. Michael’s.

Today we have a school for our children as well as a day school. There are many businesses in Richville today.

When the railroad was built to run through this area in 1882, the residents applied for a post office. The new post office was named “Easy” and opened on April 13, 1882.

In 1880 the name changed to “Rollow” and finally in 1892, it was changed to “Silverwood” after the nearby stands of white pine.

Silverwood has no government of its own and is governed by the townships that the community lies within.

The Community of Tuscola

Current Local Officials

Tuscola Township
- Township Supervisor: Tod Fackler
- Township Clerk: Shelly Hicks
- Township Treasurer: Robert Verbeek

Tuscola was established in 1840 and is located on the north and south sides of the Cass River. The post office was established in 1848 and named “Worth,” the name changed to “Tuscola” in 1875.

Situated between Vassar and Frankenmuth the small community enjoys a very quiet atmosphere yet is close enough to the listed towns to enjoy their benefits as well.
The village of Unionville is situated along the M-24 highway to Saginaw Bay.

The intersection of M-25 and M-24 at the heart of Unionville, provides the hub around which commercial growth is expected to take place for several years to come.

A gateway to Saginaw Bay, Unionville already sports several successful local businesses, which have found a niche serving the needs of local farmers as well as the needs of boaters and tourists who use Unionville as a base for their exploration of the shoreline’s rich fishery.

Several churches serve the community with the St. Paul congregation also supporting an elementary school facility.

In combination with neighboring Sebewaing in Huron County, Unionville residents have built a successful educational system that features modern facilities and rich traditions, in both academics and athletics.

Like the majority of other towns in its day, Unionville was created by an act of legislation on April 1, 1879.

Unionville continues to stand as the northern-most town in the county. Like its southernmost neighboring predecessors, Akron and Fairgrove, Unionville is well-known for its rich farmland and ties to agriculture. Today, it continues to thrive as one of the largest sugar beet producers in the area.

Unionville blossomed into an aspiring town in late 1882, when the Saginaw, Tuscola and Huron Railroad was built through the town. Taking only two years to complete, the railroad brought prosperity to the area, and eased the problem of exporting agricultural goods.

As an urban center surrounded by rich agricultural lands, Vassar has achieved controlled, orderly and planned growth.

Vassar welcomes new industry confidently and aggressively, for it possesses an excellent location, housing and education opportunities as well as industrial potential.

Vassar is located between major metropolitan areas and is served by both major highways and rail lines.

One of the industrial hubs of the county, Vassar is home to many growing industries, a testimonial to the effort put forth to recruit job-providing businesses to the community.

The Vassar Chamber of Commerce, in concert with the Vassar Economic Development Corporation and the Downtown Development Authority, have combined to greatly benefit the downtown area.

Steeped in history, Vassar prides itself in a rich heritage and looks forward to a growing, successful future.

March 2, 1851, brought another town to Tuscola County. Under an act of legislation, it was provided that a town was to be set off from the township of Tuscola, and organized into a name of its own.

Set upon the banks of the mighty Cass River, Vassar was founded by the Hon. Townsend North, the Hon. James M. Edmunds, James Saunders and Joseph Grovernor. These four men had seen potential within the waters of the Cass, which flowed southwest across the northwest corner of the village. Therefore, the men built a sawmill here.

The town remained nameless until later in 1851, when it was named after one of the original founder’s relatives (Edmunds), a man named “Vassar,” the founder of Vassar Female College in Poughkeepsie, New York.
